

CAPTAIN'S LOG, DAY 3...

Venturing into outer space is a massive journey - you need to be prepared, and you need to record what happens! Do one or both of the tasks below to keep track of everything...

KIT LIST

Write a kit list of everything you might need for your trip to space. Will you need jumpers for the chilly spaceship, or sun cream for your trip to Venus? What kind of food will you want while you're away? Why don't you illustrate the list with drawings of each item you need to pack!

DIARY ENTRY

Space is awfully big, and can get pretty lonely. While you're away write a diary describing all the amazing things you've seen and done out in the solar system! Where are you on the spacecraft as you write your diary entries? Describe where you're sitting and what you can see out of the window. Or you could draw everyone at home a picture of what you can see!
