

SONGBIRDS

Nightingales are one of the most famous songbirds. They are known for their beautiful voices, and have featured in lots of stories and poems because of it.

You can hear the Nightingale's song here, on the RSPB's website, along with a lovely little illustration and series of facts to identify Nightingales compared to other songbirds.

After listening, write the words to a nightingale song... Or you can make up your own!

Be a bird interpreter, and write what you think they are saying. You could write the lyrics to their music, trying to keep in the same rhythm as their song, or you could write like you are passing on a message for them.

Show us what you write in our shared gallery - we want to read what you come up with!