

PLANETARY POETRY!

Today you've ventured into outer space! Record your observations so far in a list poem of all the planets!

A list poem is just what it sounds like; a collection of observations or points brought together in a list. Here is a wonderful example by Roger McGough called The Sound Collector:

<https://clpe.org.uk/poetryline/poems/sound-collector>

You could list a fact about each planet, or have a whole stanza (a group of lines) about each one. Or you could list your observations about outer space in general.

Here's a reminder of the planets in order of how close to the Sun they are:

Mercury
Venus
Earth
Mars
Jupiter
Saturn
Uranus
Neptune

Share your lists on our gallery so we can share all this glorious galactic knowledge!